Why awards are no stress

AIDEEN BRADY

THE warm smells of scented oils rush to meet you, instantly relaxing your mood, as you enter the Ambrosia Health Centre.

A nominee in the Randwick Excellence Business Awards, the centre uses acupuncture, massage and Chinese herbs to treat medical ailments, including stress, anxiety, chronic fatigue, headaches and skin problems. It also runs an extensive fertility program. Ambrosia Health Centre won the outstanding health category in the 2007 and 2009 awards.

Acupuncturist Bartley Melocco said the awards were great for business.

"It's re-affirming for our customers to see these awards on the wall and it's great to get recognition for our hard work," Mr Melocco said.
